

Summary: Privacy Policy

Don't have time to read the entire privacy policy? No worries, we got you covered. Here's a quick run-down of the key things you should know about it.

1. We do not require you to submit any personal information to surf or browse the platform.
 2. To avail the platform and connect to mentors/mentees, we will collect some information to contact you and that is all done through Google Forms. Effectively, the only information of yours that we use is what you give us through the Form, and that's all.
 3. Our platform may collect some information like the browser you use, your OS, and the amount of time you spent on the platform for analytics about user engagement.
 4. Through cookies and other user-submitted information, we keep a track record of your time zone, preferred language, and the search terms you look up on the website.
 5. Communication between you and the mentors/mentees will not happen through the website, we will only connect you and then allow you to choose the platforms of communicating.
 6. Other information we collect will include requests and queries you make through the website, any complaints filed, and any other communications made directly through the website.
 7. At any point, you can contact us, and we will ensure we delete the data we have collected for you, including your contact details, your preferences, and any other information we used to provide the platform's services to you.
 8. For any grievances, queries, or suggestions, please reach out at info.purpleconnect@gmail.com
